FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

cat-man-du and the High Plains Food Bank host the 7th Annual Computer Health Fair

July 25 2011- Amarillo, TX

Cat-man-du and the High Plains Food Bank will host the seventh annual Computer Health Fair from 8:00am to 12:00pm on Friday, July 29th, 2011. cat-man-du will clean viruses, spyware and adware from computers for a donation of FOUR full sacks of food items for the High Plains Food Bank. cat-man-du usually charges over $200 for this service. cat-man-du's extensive virus removal from your computer in exchange for a food donation to the High Plains Food Bank will help people in need throughout the panhandle this summer. This donation does not cover any other services cat-man-du has to offer, such as data recovery, hardware/software repair and installation or computer maintenance. A power cord needs to be brought with any laptop computers. Virus removals will take up to four business days depending on the system and severity of the virus infection. Participants can bring their computers to any of these three cat-man-du locations;
