

Privacy Policy

High Plains Food Bank is committed to the privacy of our donors. We will not sell, share or trade donors' names or personal information with any other entity, nor send mailings to our donors on behalf of other organizations. This policy applies to all information received by High Plains Food Bank, both online and offline, on any Platform (website, mobile applications, etc.), as well as any electronic, written or oral communications. All personal banking and credit card information is taken and encrypted in a secure environment through PayPal and will only be used for purposes necessary to process the donation.

Further, the High Plains Food Bank respects the privacy of all website visitors and handles any information you provide us with care. The only personal data we gather from you is that which you voluntarily provide. We do not track visitors through the use of cookies* and we only use general statistics gathered from our site traffic for our own purposes.

The High Plains Food Bank will only request specific information from you in order to complete a transaction. We do not require that site visitors provide us with personal information in order to contact us.

If you choose to provide us personal information voluntarily through any form that is currently available on the site, we do not distribute this information to any third party. Your information will be added to our donor database, but this information will not be sold to or traded with any other organizations or companies. We may use your personal information to contact you in the future.

If there are any changes to this policy, we will post the changes immediately. Any information given to us prior to a change in policy will still be protected by the policy that was in place when you provided us with the information. By using our web site and providing this information to us, you consent to our collection, use and storage of your information in the manner described above.

If you have any questions or concerns about the protection of your privacy while visiting our site, please feel free to contact us at (806) 374-8562. Thank you for reading this privacy policy and visiting our web site.

*Cookies: a cookie is a small piece of information that is sent to your browser when you visit pages in certain sites. The information that is sent to the browser is then saved to your hard drive and is used the next time you visit the same site to identify your computer. Many sites use cookies as a way to personalize pages or remember information such as personal profiles for shopping online. The High Plains Food Bank does not use cookies; however, some of the sites to which we are linked may utilize cookies. Users should check the privacy policies of those sites for further information.